ASSET BASED COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT TRAINING

A two-day training introducing the core principles and practices of Asset Based Community Development (ABCD) for use in local communities and organizations.

ABCD builds community from the inside out as residents and those who are seen as clients become producers rather than needy people seeking services. Learn the power of asset mapping, a fundamental tool that discovers the gifts of individuals, networks and associations, and local organizations that are then leveraged to create change. Presentations and exercises will occur in light of current issues about racial equity and social justice and will enable participants to think deeper about responses to these challenges.

Who Should Attend

People who seek a working understanding of ABCD as a strength-based approach to change. Though not a requirement, experience shows that the effectiveness of the training is greater when more than one person from the same organization attend together.

CEUs in Social Work available!

Workshop Leaders

This workshop will be led by experienced ABCD practitioners.

Indigo Bishop, MSSA
ABCD Institute Faculty Member

Mark Chupp, PhD
ABCD Institute Faculty Member

When

February 27-28, 2020
8:30 am - 4:30 pm

Where

Mandel Community Studies
Center of Case Western Reserve University, Room 115
11402 Bellflower Road,
Cleveland, OH 44106
*Lunch provided.

Registration Fee

$550 for the 2-day training event. Please contact JP Graulty jpgraulty@case.edu for more information.